What is a solar automatic transfer switch?

An automatic transfer switch,ATS,does that automatically,in your absence. Read more about the solar ATS below. A solar automatic transfer switch is a type of self-acting switch that is specifically designed for use with a solar power system. Solar ATS are typically installed so they connect to the grid,inverter,solar battery,and the load.

How does a solar transfer switch work?

Solar ATS are typically installed so they connect to the grid,inverter,solar battery,and the load. When battery power goes down,the solar transfer switch will automatically connect your appliances to the grid. This ensures your electrical system continues to operate even when there is no solar power available.

Can a solar transfer switch be used in different solar systems?

You can use these switches in different solar systems,as explained below. A grid-tie solar transfer switch is specifically used with a grid-tied solar power system. That means it allows your system to draw power from the grid when necessary,such as during bad weather.

Do solar inverters need a transfer switch?

In some cases,the solar system does not connect to the grid. So the auto solar transfer switch must toggle the load between the PV system and a different source,such as a generator. But solar inverters usually come with built-in mechanisms to switch between power sources. So,where would you need the transfer switch?

What is a power transfer switch?

If you're new to the transfer switch, here's what it is: A power transfer switch is an electrical device used to safely connect or disconnect a load from its primary power source to another. In the case of a solar system, the load is the home or business that the solar array is powering and the alternate power source is the grid or grid generator.
