IXI's backward-compatible defense technology products extend the life of military assets and programs. Advanced-design solutions meet any form factor while also reducing SWaP (size, weight, and power) in older systems. We have provided NTDS technology since 1984 and many of our products remain in service decades later.

The project has shown potential with more than 60km of outcropping pegmatites and high-grade lithium findings. The binding memorandum of understanding outlines SQM's potential to earn up to a 70% interest in the project's lithium rights, starting with a 30% stake for A$2m ($1.3m) after a due diligence period.
